

NITOC SCHOLARSHIP FUND

“Helping Families Get To Nationals”

It's an honor to qualify for the National Invitational Tournament of Champions (NITOC), but it can be an expensive honor. For some families, the cost of attending NITOC can be an insurmountable barrier to their student's participation.

In an effort to assist these families, the Institute for Principle Studies has established a NITOC Scholarship Fund to make the national tournament experience a reality for as many students as possible!

“We are so grateful the Institute for Principle Studies cares so much about Stoa families to make such an effort to actively assist in a practical way. We are blessed by your servant's heart.”

– Angela Gittisarn, Parent

“Please thank your leadership team for taking this initiative. We had no idea that such a ministry existed. Bravo!”

– Moses Tey, Coach

“Thank you so much for investing in me and making this NITOC experience possible!”

– Joshua Berry, Student

Deadlines

Applications and donations must be received by midnight on Sunday, April 22, 2018. Applications will be reviewed April 23rd-26th. Funds will be disbursed April 27th.

Details about the Fund

This fund helps families with travel expenses and tournament registration fees. IPS directs the fundraising for this project, manages the fund, reviews applications, and selects the recipients. The fund operates with a low fixed overhead of 15% to compensate for expenses associated with promotion, management, and disbursement. 85% of gifts go directly to helping students get to NITOC. All gifts donated to the fund are tax deductible.

About IPS

Founded in 2005, the Institute for Principle Studies (IPS) is a Christian non-profit organization dedicated to teaching biblical principles of government, economics and history.

The mission of IPS is to help Christians discover the proper roles of family, church and civil government in society through the pages of Scripture.

Through this work, IPS' vision is to transform society by combating relativism, authoritarianism, socialism and other philosophies that deny God and usurp individual liberty.
