ABOUT

The Bible is more than our source of faith and practice. It contains God's wisdom for every area of life. Unfortunately, we often fail to take advantage of everything the Bible has to offer.

The Biblical Principles of Government course will help you in your journey to build a more complete worldview based on biblical principles. Starting with the creation/evolution debate, you will learn to defend the biblical creation account and why almost all other societal issues depend on this foundation.

In the area of government, you will learn principles familiar to many of our founding fathers, but which have not been taught in American classrooms since before the Civil War.

This course covers government, history, economics, education, charity, and the proper role in society of the family, the church, and the state. It also covers good and bad decision-making processes and teaches you to identify which is which.

This is an adult course, but it is still well suited for high school and junior high students. This is also a popular family course that creates many positive family discussions, so we encourage whole families to take it together. Homework is very light, but by special arrangement, a more thorough and rigorous homework load can be assigned for those seeking school credit.

IN-PERSON DETAILS & COST

The in-person course is free, but there is a $25 charge for the study guide. Only one study guide per family is required, however, each person may want their own study guide for practical use. TESTIMONIES

“
I have been fortunate enough to be able to take a trip to the Holy Land, to take a 'Heritage' tour with Marshall Foster, and visit many of our country's historical landmarks. This 10 week IPS course is far more valuable than all those other things combined.

It changed my worldview forever and I cannot recommend any other class or curriculum more highly.

My wife and I signed up for this class because we felt obligated to gain a better understanding of how Scripture intersects with government, public policy, and economics.
